OAKLAND "THE CAR WITH A CONSCIENCE" Model 42 Oakland

MODEL 42 five-passenger touring car is bound to create a deep impression before the season is far advanced. It embodies sound engineering principles and possesses enough meritorious innovations to distinguish it from the common type of touring car. The body has a number of daring lines which stamp it as an individual design, and the aluminum steps, shroud and V-shaped radiator give the car a dashing appearance.

THE HOME CIRCLE.

Pleasant Reveries—A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as they Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide.

MOTHER.
It is a wonderful thing, a mother, other folks can love you, but only your mother understands. She works for you, looks after you, loves you, forgives you anything you do, understands you, and then the only thing bad she ever does to you is to die and leave you.—Baroness Von Hutten.

"Yesterday is but a dream, and tomorrow is but a vision. Today well lived and its work well done will make every yesterday a dream of happiness, and every tomorrow a vision of hope. Therefore look well to-day."

"Be strong, we are not here to play, to dream, to drift; We have hard work to do, and loads to lift—Shun not the struggle, it is God's gift."

"People need from us nothing so much as good cheer and encouragement. Life is hard for most and needs inspiration. The best friendship is that which inspires us to do better, to do our best."

UNNECESSARY BURDENS IN HOUSEKEEPING.

Many a weary housekeeper if she would but cast her eyes about her home as though she were seeing it for the first time would discover many ways to lighten her daily tasks. She has become so accustomed to the burdens piled upon her back that though her back may ache under them, their very familiarity has dulled her perception of how she might get rid of many of them. But let her go about her home as though she were looking at every single thing in it impersonally and for the first time and immediately her eyes will be opened and she will discern that a large part of her daily work is unnecessary.

In the matter of dusting alone what couldn't many a housewife save herself if she would eliminate some of the dust catchers in her furnishings. Vases and bric-a-brac that are an endless amount of intricate ornament mean literally hours spent in dusting them in the course of a month. Just as beautiful ornaments can be found whose beauty is a matter of line and color and whose smooth surface can be dusted in a second.

Many of the ornaments about a home could be discarded altogether with advantage so far as artistic results in furnishings are concerned. They simply accumulate and the eye becomes so accustomed to them that it scarcely notices them. Yet week after week, they must all be dusted. If the housewife would wake up to this useless accumulation about her instead of cleaning it mechanically year in and out, she could save herself a lot of monotonous labor. She should study them as if they did not belong to her but to some one else and to ask honestly and critically, "Are they really ornamental or useful?" She will probably be surprised at the number of things she can clear away without ever missing them.

China could be used in many cases instead of silver and thus do away with the unpleasant task of cleaning silver. All sorts of brass furnishings could be avoided, for brass will tarnish and polishing it is no easy or delightful work. The use of many of such furnishings is simply a matter of style. Just as beautiful and much more easily cared for articles are to be found. On ly, some indefinite, "they" have said it is fashionable to have silver or brass and so the home is filled up with very old and weary hours are spent in keeping it bright.

A man once said the first thing he did when visiting was to look the pillow shams up in his trunk. Most housekeepers would rise up to indignation protest if one laid hands on that sacred institution of the home, the pillow sham. But every morning it must be carefully spread over the pillow and every night carefully laid off, to say nothing of its washing and ironing. Aren't clean, fresh pillow cases just as attractive? And if one once shams the case the pillow cases are not clean!

A housekeeper if she would forget tradition, discard conventions and study her home and her work carefully would find she is loaded up with many unnecessary burdens. The trouble with many a woman is that she is in a rut. She performs her work in traditional fashion and never thinks as she does it whether she is doing it in the way most economical of time and on judgment. Seven women out of ten realize about their homes and from parlor, dining room and bedroom would rather be afraid of things that are only dust

TO KEEP PANCAKES FROM STICKING.

When the griddle "gets cranky" and the pancakes stick, grease it well, then sprinkle salt on it and rub hard with a heavy cloth. Then grease it again with a bit of clean cloth dipped in lard, and there will be no further difficulty.

A HANDY POLISH.
Nothing will so quickly clean and polish the spigots of sink and bathtub as a little ammonia and soda mixed with the fine ashes from the ash flues of the range.

RAW BEEF SANDWICHES.
This bit of nutritious food is frequently resorted to by the invalid and is served in the hotel kitchen. From saw, piece, tender beef scraped into two or three tablespoonfuls, having it very fine. Season with a little salt, spread on very thin slices of bread, put in a toaster, toast slightly and serve.

TO BRIGHTEN CHOCOLIT.
To keep the chocolate of kitchen or bathroom clean and bright, wash in warm water without soap, wipe dry, then go over the entire surface with a damp cloth slightly dampened with skimmed milk. It's the best and quickest cleanser and gives a polish that can never be equaled by anything.

From Philadelphia Public Ledger.

ONE AT A TIME.
The young husband walked into the kitchen where his bride was attempting to bake a cake. He stopped short and stared wonderingly at the pans each containing an egg.
"What's the meaning of that," he inquired, pointing to the pans.
"I'm doing just what the cook book says," explained the young wife.
"It says to take five eggs and beat separately."

Those Dizzy Feelings.

By Dr. True

People often come to me complaining of giddiness and nausea. If they look down, or up, or change position suddenly, they have a whirling, topsy-turvy feeling that is very distressing. They are in a truly wretched condition—unfit for business or pleasure—half sick and feeling just as bad as if they were.

Now, I find nine times in ten that such people have been careless about eating, and haven't kept their bowels in good order. People don't always know it, but really most sickness comes from neglect of stomach and bowels. This fact I have learned in a long and laborious practice. I urge you, then, if you feel dizzy, nervous, depressed, see spots before your eyes or have had trouble, to begin taking my Elixir. It may be had of almost any dealer—at a very moderate cost. This is a pleasant remedy to take and is very effective. It will certainly remove the poison from your system, restore your appetite, cause your food to digest properly and your bowels to act as nature meant they should. Also expel stomach worms and pin worms if any be present. Go, then, to the nearest dealer and ask for Dr. True's Elixir. I am sure that you will not be disappointed in the good it will do you.

WILL REVIVE COW TEST ASSOCIATIONS.

And Organize New Ones, Says Commissioner Roberts.

At the second annual meeting of the Maine Federation of Agricultural Associations, Commissioner of Agriculture, Hon. J. A. Roberts, of Norway, outlined his position regarding dairy work while speaking on "Organized Agriculture." In what direction, if any, is further organization needed? Commissioner Roberts said that he intended to revive dairy bookkeeping associations which had been doing such good work with the Maine farmers but which had failed to continue their work during the past two years through lack of department support. Commissioner Roberts also stated that it was his intention to foster the breeders as associations throughout the State. In aid of this the Commissioner plans to give his best assistance to every organized effort promoting agriculture. Concerning the duty of the Department was to help the farmers of Maine and he proposed to see that the best attention was given to this duty.

FIRE AT BETHEL.

The house known as the "old Goddard house," situated on the westerly side of Main street and just below the Methodist parsonage, was destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning.

The house was owned and occupied by Fred B. Tibbette, the undertaker. About twelve o'clock Mr. Tibbette's daughter woke him up, saying that the kitchen stove was smoking badly. Mr. Tibbette rushed into the kitchen and found it full of smoke. He then rushed out of the house and hollowed loud enough to wake up the neighbors who quickly responded.

In a short time the fire companies were on the scene but the fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to save the building. They did succeed in keeping it away from the stable. The house and all were gutted; the walls are still standing but are so badly burned that they will have to be torn down.

Some of the furniture was removed but not until it had been drenched with water. All of the kitchen and dining room utensils were destroyed as also much clothing and bedding.

The house was insured for $1,500 and separate insurance was carried on the furniture.

Too much praise cannot be given the fire companies for the efficient and orderly manner in which they worked. They had four streams of water playing on the building with pressure enough to reach any point of the roof from the ground, but it was by getting in where the flames were that they were able to hold them in check. The trees around the house were not scorched.

This fire brings home more forcibly than ever the need of an automatic fire alarm system.

BROWN RELIEF CORPS.

At the last meeting of Brown Relief Corps, after a brief business session, the time was devoted to memorial exercises for two deceased members, Mrs. Ellen Chandler and Mrs. Eva Fox, and for Mrs. Anna Mayley Craig, a Past Department Officer.

The altar was beautifully decorated with flags and flowers, and the exercises in charge of Miss Barnabas were very impressive.

In addition to the regular service, short addresses appropriate to the occasion were given by the different members and the beautiful poem, "Justice," by May Wiley Smith, was recited by Mrs. Nellie Davis.

ALDER RIVER ORANGE.

Alder River Orange held its regular session Friday evening the 14th, with a large attendance. Four applications for membership were received. A class of nine was instructed in the third and fourth degrees by Mr. A. T. Powers of Haverhill, and the harvest feast was spread.

An interesting program of music, recitations and readings, also a reading and address by Mrs. D. H. Brown of Haverhill, were much enjoyed. Visitors were present from Deer River, Grand Rapids, Haverhill, and Oxford.

A riding outfit of thanks was tendered to Mr. Powers and others for assistance rendered.

BRIDGTON ACADEMY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

The 10th Annual Session of the Bridgton Academy Alumni Association of Portland, Me. was held at the Hotel Portland, March 17, 1913.

All students, teachers, alumni, graduates and friends of the Academy are cordially invited to attend.

It is especially desired to have as many as possible present at the afternoon session, beginning at 3:00 P. M. Held at 700 P. M. Reception meeting after dinner.

WEST PARIS.

The primary, intermediate and grammar schools are closed for two weeks. The high school will have one week for vacation.

Mrs. Albert Bowker and Edward Hillwell spent Friday and Saturday at Lewiston with their father. They report his condition somewhat improved. There will be appropriate observance of Easter at the morning service and Sunday school at the Universalist church.

Rev. J. M. Frost, D. D., Supr. of the Augusta District of the M. E. church, preached at the chapel last Sunday.

Israel F. Emmons is quite ill. His daughter, Miss Bertha Emmons, of Portland came home to assist in caring for him.

One of the most enjoyable parties of the season was the birthday surprise party given Edwin J. Mann at his residence on Main street, Tuesday evening, Mar. 11. The arrangements for the party was quietly made and when Mr. Mann answered his door bell at eight o'clock twenty-five guests filed in to offer their congratulations on his arrival at another annual milestone. The evening was pleasantly spent with games and music. Mr. Mann was presented with an office chair, flowers and other tokens of good wishes, also a handsome birthday cake upon which the candles were brightly burning. Besides the cake refreshments of chocolate ice cream, fruit punch and crackers were served. Ellis Noble has purchased George Hawes stand on Pioneer street. Maynard Chase is working for his uncle, Will Stearns, at Stearns Mill. Ed. Dexter and family of Lewiston have been visiting his parents at the Maple House. Jesse Dexter is recovering from pneumonia. A good delegation from W. Paris Grange visited Paris Grange, Saturday.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

President and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson were elected honorary members of the American Cross of Honor at the annual meeting of the board of governors the other day. Mrs. Wilson is the first woman who has been elected an honorary member of the American Cross of Honor, which only recently decided to admit women to its honorary membership. For a number of years it has been the custom to elect the President an honorary member, this having been done in the case of McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft. The American Cross of Honor is composed of "medals of honor men," men who have been awarded a medal for life saving by congress.

Her Admiral Robert E. Peary left Mar. 15 from New York for Rome, where he will be presented with a medal by the Royal Italian Geographical Society of Rome in honor of the discovery of the North Pole. Herbert L. Bridgman, secretary of the Peary Arctic Club, who, with Mrs. Peary, Miss Marie and Robert E. Peary, Jr., will accompany him, will deliver an address before the society. The party will go to Egypt and return to this country in June.

The Boston Journal was sold Mar. 10th by Frank A. Manney to Matthew Hale, national committeeman for Massachusetts and State chairman of the Progressive party. The price of the paper is again placed at one cent. A week ago Mr. Manney raised the price to three cents as an experiment to determine whether Boston would support a morning paper at that price. Mr. Hale assumed management of the property at once, the change in price being effective at once. In an address that the Journal would continue to support the cause of the Progressive party, Mr. Hale said, "it will fight out untiringly all the battles of the Progressive and any other parties."

The business of the parcel post is valued over a half million in packages in the city of New York alone as between the month of January and the month of February. That is pretty good evidence that the parcel is already a success. With the improvements that are provided such as P. O. D. collection, etc., the service is bound to grow in popularity.

C. W. Morse, the former banker, accompanied by Mrs. Morse, reached New York, March 16, from Europe.

where he has been traveling since last November. Physicians had told him he could live for years, with proper care, Mr. Morse said. "But I must watch myself constantly and be careful of my diet," he added. Mr. Morse intended to enter business again, he declared, but was afraid as to the line he pursued taking up. He would not discuss a report that coastwise steamship lines would again engage his attention.

A high record for February in the history of American foreign commerce was established last month when the aggregate of exports and imports amounted to $144,333,130, and there was a balance of trade in favor of the United States of $14,430,762 for the month. Exports aggregated $104,023,010; imports $140,559,214, the Bureau of Foreign and Commerce announced today.

As the result of the efforts of two Y. M. C. A. organizers, T. L. White and Mr. Williams of Buffalo, N. Y., an $85,000 Y. M. C. A. building is to be erected on an island in the Androscoggin river near Berlin, N. H. The superintendent of the paper mills and the leading business men of the place have become interested in the project the success of which is assured. Messrs. White and Williams came to Berlin to raise a fund for a Y. M. C. A. building. They said they proposed to raise $25,000 to get the job done. The five days that was up last Saturday at noon, at which time several of the $5,000 pledges, they had just $42,000.

Memorial services for Prof. Henry Cabot Lodge took place at the Bowdoin college chapel Sunday afternoon. Pres. Hyde presided and the chapel organist, Edward H. West, gave an especial program. The address was delivered by Prof. William Brewster, who in 1897 succeeded Prof. Cabot as Edward Little professor of science and natural history. Prof. Mitchell spoke in part as follows: "When a great man dies he bequeaths to his friends a heritage of precious memories. To all of us who knew Prof. Cabot as a teacher, colleague or neighbor, and shared among our chiefest blessings the gift of his friendship, there have come during the days since his death many sore memories of his life among us. For while thus it seems to us a member of Bowdoin College. To each some man was his friend and to each some work he did as fitting tribute call him away."

How She Cured Her Husband

"For five years my husband suffered with his stomach. The medicine he took only gave relief for a while, nothing cured, writes Mrs. Sarah Baker of Nottingham, Mo. 'Our merchant bought some of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He gave us some of them and I wanted my husband to try them. He said it would do no good. His stomach had been troubling him worse than ever. At last on Friday I told him if he would not take those tablets I was going to send for a doctor, and he said he would take them. By Monday he was another man. The blues were gone, no more trouble with his stomach, and the best part is that the trouble has not returned. I cannot praise Chamberlain's Tablets too highly.'"

GRASS AND GRAIN SEED—A SEASONABLE WARNING.

Winter is still with us, but the spring work will be here before we know it. Last year those who caught the early weeks of favorable weather were well repaid, both in their oat crop and in catches of grass. This latter crop, the most important in the State, received perhaps less attention in the way of better methods than any other that we grow. As for oats, they are the most extensively grown of any of our small grains. Not only are these two crops widely grown now, but they will continue to hold an important place in farm operations in the State, and the sooner we come to realize that oats are not merely oats, and grass seed merely grass seed, the sooner will our yields come to a profitable level. There is no more reason for the use of inferior yielding seed than there is for the use of scrub sires and dams among live stock.

Within recent years much interest has been taken in the improvement of our small grains. Recent discoveries in the principles of heredity have opened up new lines, and shown the way to more certain improvement. Experiment Stations and private concerns are placing within reach of the grower, seeds that possess better qualities than our old varieties. The man who takes advantage of these opportunities will profit in the end. It has been frequently demonstrated that seed raised in one locality, giving successful results there, is not necessarily adapted to other conditions of soil and climate. This is especially true of such crops as sweet corn, and while less important in the case of oats, there is no reason why we should be sowing oats raised in Kansas or the other Central States. Seed oats should be purchased at once, while the supply of good seed oats lasts. If possible the source of the seed should be known, with something of its record, and it should be sown in a climate and under conditions similar to ours. Some difficulty may be experienced in securing such seed, but it is certain that it will never be supplied by our dealers until there is a demand for it.

IMPORTANT MATTERS.

Buckling down to work as they have not before this session, the Maine Senate late Tuesday afternoon gave its unanimous endorsement to the public utilities bill and passed it to be engrossed, the most important step yet taken toward the enactment of this long awaited measure. That it will be enacted seems assured.

The announced discussion brought forth a big crowd of spectators. In the gathering during the forenoon was Governor Haines, who watched the proceedings with interest, while the Hon. Daniel J. McGillicuddy of Lewiston, congressman from the second district, was also in the assembly. The senators manifested a disposition to keep going regardless of time, and to close up this all important matter.

It may be said that the amendments which were adopted do not detract from the efficacy of the bill as they are merely enlargements of some of the paragraphs and explanations of the sections.

That a great and wide interest is manifested in the public utilities bill was manifested by the crowd in the Senate chamber when the matter came up for discussion. Early in the forenoon, the people began to gather so that before the subject was finally reached, there was not a vacant seat in the whole hall.

BRYANT'S POND.

Elijah Libby, who has been confined to the house all winter, suffered a partial shock last week and is now very low.

Frank Stevens is still confined to his room with kidney trouble, and is in a very weak condition.

The young people connected with the Baptist Society will give an Easter concert at the church next Sunday evening. The services will be conducted by Rev. S. J. Oldaker assisted by Amos Barnett.

Camp Slocum, Sons of Veterans, held a special meeting last week. New members are coming in and considerable interest is manifested in the progress of the camp.

Many of our townspeople are suffering from the prevailing epidemic of colds.

Harry Crockett has accepted the agency here of the Gray Motor Co., of Detroit, Mich., and is having good success.

Our three mills are busy and a large amount of lumber is being worked up in our town this winter.

Summer Places Wanted

Each year more and more summer sojourners from all over the country are seeking pleasant spots in New England, patronizing well-managed hotels and the pleasantly located boarding places and farms where paying guests are received.

Each season thousands of people turn to the advertising columns of the Boston Evening Transcript, where so many announcements of summer places are published.

Many families prefer to lease farms, houses or cottages in the country. Hundreds of properties are sold every season to parties from Eastern and Western cities who are attracted by advertisements in the Transcript.

If you desire to reach the well-to-do people and attract them to your town insert a well-worded advertisement in the Boston Transcript.

HEART THRILLING GEMS.

"THERE'S A DEAR LITTLE GIRL COMING HOME TO-DAY."
"There's a dear little girl, coming
home today!
Oh, what do you think the angels say!"
Held the children up in heaven—
"There's a dear little girl coming
home today!
She's almost ready to fly away
From the earth we used to live in.
Let's go and open the gates of pearl,
Open them wide for the new little girl."
Held the children up in heaven.
"God wanted her here, where his little ones meet."
Held the children up in heaven.
"She shall play with us in the golden street!"
She has grown too fair, she has grown too sweet
For the earth we used to live in;
She needs the sunshine, this dear little girl,
That glides this side of the gates of pearl."
Held the children up in heaven.

"So the King called down from the angels' dome."
Held the children up in heaven,
"My little darling, arise and come To the place prepared in thy Father's home,
To the home that my children live in;
Let's go and watch at the gates of
pearl,
Ready to welcome the new little girl."
Held the children up in heaven.
"Far down on the earth do you hear them weep!"
Held the children up in heaven.
"For the dear little girl has gone to sleep!
The shadows fall and the night-clouds sweep
O'er the earth we used to live in;
But we'll go and open the gates of
pearl;
Oh! why do they weep for their dear little girl!"
Held the children up in heaven.

"Fly with her quick, O angel dear!"
Held the children up in heaven.
"See, she is coming! Look there! Look there!
At the Jasper light on her crown hair!
Where the vailing clouds are risen.
Ah! hush! hush! hush! All the swift wings for,
For the King himself at the gates of pearl
Is taking her hand, dear, tired little
girl,
And leading her into heaven."

ALL THINGS COME RIGHT.
All things come right, and be it soon or late,
All things come right at last to compensate.
For all the petty heartaches of to-day,
For all the little failures on our way,
And all our aching sorrows it appears Are really blessings in a mask of tears.
So if success be tardy at our call,
It is to test our courage, that is all.
And in the end each heart will seek its rest Beside the one it always loved the best.
The darkest hour holds the brightest light,
And all things come right.
Reverend H. Parker, in The Banner.

THE TWO WORKERS.
Two workers in one field
Toiled on from day to day,
Both had the same hard labor,
Both had the same small pay.
With the same blue sky above,
The same green grass below,
And each was full of love,
The other full of care.

One layed up with the light,
With the caring of the birds,
The fell it over night,
The fell it over night,
The fell it over night,
The fell it over night,
The fell it over night,
The fell it over night.

And they worked in the same field,
Toiled on from day to day,
Both had the same hard labor,
Both had the same small pay,
But they worked not with one will.
The strains let me tell,
For the one drank at the well,
And the other at the wall.

you order flour.

MY MOTHER'S PRAYER.
As I wandered round the homestead,
Many a dear familiar spot
Brought within my recollections Scenes I'd seemingly forgot.
There the orchard meadow yonder,
Here the deep old-fashioned well,
With its old moss-covered bucket,
Sent a thrill no tongue can tell.

Though the house was held by strange era,
All remained the same within,
Just as when a child I roamed,
Up and down and out and in.
To the garret dark ascending,
O'er a sorrow of childish dread,
Peering through the misty cobwebs,
Lo! I saw my trundle bed.

Quick! I drew it from the rubbish,
Covered it with dust so long;
When, behold, I heard in fancy
Strains of one familiar song.
Often sang by my dear mother
To me in that trundle bed,
"Hush, my dear, lie still and slumber;
Holy angels guard thy bed."

While I listen to the music
Stealing on in gentle strain,
I am carried back to childhood,
I am now a child again.
'Tis the hour of my retiring,
At the dusky eventide,
Near my trundle bed I'm kneeling,
As of yore, by mother's side.

SHINE JUST WHERE YOU ARE.
By John Day.
Don't waste your time in longing
For bright, impossible things.
Don't sit expectantly yearning
For the sweetness of wings.
Don't spurn to be a rascal
Because you are not a star,
But brighten some bit of darkness
By shining just where you are.

There is need of the kindest candle
As well as the garish sun.
The humblest deed is enabled
When it is worthily done.
You may never be called to brighten
The darkest regions afar,
So fill the day your mission
By shining just where you are.

Every particle of progress that has ever been made has been the product of individuals who have done for their work, not who, by doing their work, have climbed above the mass, and, by climbing themselves have developed power to stand. James Logan.

"If you and I—just you and I—should laugh instead of weep,
If we should grow—just you and I—richer and sweeter hearted, Perhaps to some one by and by
A good time might be started,
Then what a happy world would be
For you and me!"

"There are loyal hearts and spirits brave.
There are souls that are pure and true,
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best shall come to you."

CANTON.

George K. Johnson, one of Canton's aged and highly respected citizens, passed away Friday night after a few days illness, following a stroke of paralysis, aged 78 years. He was a native of Dickvale and was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson of that town and in the last of the family of five children. He is survived by a widow, who was Miss Mary E. Nile before her marriage; three children, J.
Alerton Johnson and Mrs. George Nevens of Lewiston and George H. Johnson of Canton, and five grandchildren, Miss Beryl Nevens of Lewiston and Miss Ruth, Arthur, Clara and George Junior Johnson of Canton. Mr. Johnson was a veteran of the Civil War, where he served with distinction and was an honored member of Anasagun-hook Lodge, No. 32, I. O. O. F., and John A. Lodge Post, No. 71, U. A. R.
For many years he was engaged in the meat business but retired several years ago. He was a man of strict integrity and respected by all who knew him.

Pompank Rebekah Lodge, No. 25, observed Gentlemen's Night Friday evening in a most charming and enjoyable manner. The hall interior was handsomer decorated with the lodge colors, green and pink. A fine entertainment was given, which consisted of a piano duet by Miss Edith Bradford and Miss Eleanor Westgate; mandolin solo, J.
Clyde Dicknell; reading, Miss Stearns; vocal solo, Mrs. Winnifred Staples Smith; vocal solo, Charles H. Abbott; reading, Miss Stearns; vocal solo, Miss Smith. Refreshments of hot rolls, cold meats, cake, pastry and coffee were served. A social dance followed with music by the Banjo, Mandolin and Gul-lar Club. One of the pretty attentions shown the gentlemen during the evening was the presentation of fragrant carnations and cigars. The committee on entertainment were Mrs. George L.
Wadlin, Mrs. John K. Forbes and Miss Minnie Swasey; committee on refreshments, Mrs. Henry T. Tirrell, Mrs. Arthur A. Glancie and Mrs. Elsie Burke.

Miss Nellie Jenkins of this town,
who has been ill at the Waverly, Mass., Sanatorium, where she is training for a nurse, is improving.
Dr. Neil K. Forbes of Lowell, Mass., has been a guest of the parents, Mr.
and Mrs. John H. Forbes.
Miss Lucy Whitaker of Gorham was a recent guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Isaac A. Davis.
J. W. Hildes of East Bethel has been visiting in town.

Miss Ann Rogers is caring for Mrs.
Ellis Bader of East Hallowell, who is in poor health.

H. B. Sprague of Bryant's Point has been visiting friends in town.

Gave Him A New Stomach

"There are thousands of sufferers from stomach and liver troubles whom I wish I could meet and tell what Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets would do for them," writes H. M.
Young, editor of the Sun, Lake View, Ill. "One bottle of the tablets would do more for most of them. I suffered in terribly after eating and never felt well, and no treatment or medicine I tried ever seemed to do me any good until reading an advertisement for Chamberlain's Tablets
in my own paper. I tried a bottle. The first day I felt better, and the second day I seemed to be a new man. I tried a second bottle and now I feel like a new man."

Chamberlain's
Stomach and Liver Tablets are sold by all druggists.

FREE ADVICE TO SICK WOMEN

Thousands Have Been Helped
By Common Sense
Suggestions.

Women suffering from any form of female ill are invited to communicate promptly with the woman's private correspondence department of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established a confidential correspondence which has extended over many years and which has never been broken. Never have they published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the Company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which they have to draw from, it is more than possible that they possess the very knowledge needed in your case. Nothing is asked in return except your good will, and their advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution, as it is too expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today.
